

Ramarah Scott, MPH, MHA

Community Health Navigator Supervisor, Harmonium (former US Air Force)

Ramarah has an extensive background in Public Health, Global Health, Healthcare Administration, Public Policy, Quality Management, & Emergency Medicine.

Before coming on board as the program supervisor for the medically integrated community health worker program supervisor, she served as the quality manager for over 10 Federally Qualified Health Centers in San Diego, North, & Riverside Counties. While under her coordination and management earning the Live Well San Diego Public Health Champion Award, HRSA National Quality Leader & Level 3 facility by the NCQA. Prior to earning her MPH, and MHA Ramarah served as flight chief for the Global Patient Movement Requirement Center. Here she co-authored the Defense Health Agency's medical evacuation training platform that is still in use across all branches of service. Ramarah currently serves as lead Adjunct Professor for the Arizona Nursing Department Global Health & Diversity. She is also a cohort researcher for the American Public Health Association with a focus on Epidemiology, Public Policy, & Social Determinants of Health.